Applicant Rights Notification

As a driver applicant you have the following rights regarding the investigative information that will be provided to us the prospective employer pursuant to the Federal Regulations:

1. The right to review information provided by previous employers;
2. The right to have errors in the information corrected by the previous employer and for that previous employer to re-send the corrected information to us the prospective employer;
3. The right to have a rebuttal statement attached to the alleged erroneous information, if the previous employer and the driver cannot agree on the accuracy of the information.

Drivers who have previous Department of Transportation regulated employment history in the preceding three years and wish to review previous employer provided investigative information must submit a written request to the prospective employer, which may be done at any time, including when applying or as late as 30 days after being employed or being notified of denial of employment. The prospective employer must provide this information to you within five (5) business days of receiving the written request. If the prospective employer has not yet received the request information from the previous employer(s), then the five-business days deadline will begin when the prospective employer receives the requested safety performance history information. If the driver has not arranged to pick up or receive the requested records within thirty (30) days of the prospective employer making them available, the prospective motor carrier may consider the driver to have waived his/her request to review the records.

Drivers wishing to request correction of erroneous information in records received must send the request for the correction to the previous employer that provides the records to the prospective employer.

After October 29, 2004, the previous employer must either correct and forward the information to the prospective motor carrier employer, or notify the driver within 15 days of receiving a driver's request to correct the data that it does not agree to correct the data. If the previous employer corrects and forwards the data as requested, that employer must also retain the corrected information as part of the driver's safety performance history record and provide it to subsequent prospective employers when requests for this information are received. If the previous employer corrects the data and forwards it to the prospective motor carrier employer, there is not need to notify the driver.

Drivers wishing to rebut information in records received must send the rebuttal to the previous employer with instructions to include the rebuttal in the driver's safety performance history.

After October 24, 2004, within five business days of receiving a rebuttal from a driver, the previous employer must:

1. Forward a copy of the rebuttal to the prospective motor carrier employer,
2. Append the rebuttal to the driver's information in the carrier's appropriate file, to be included as part of the response for any subsequent investigating prospective employers for the duration of the three-year data retention requirement.

The driver may submit a rebuttal initially without a request for correction, or subsequent to a request for correction

The driver may report failures of previous employers to correct information or include the driver's rebuttal as part of the safety performance information, to the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration following procedures specified in section 386.12 of the regulations.
